Hidden Beauty

In Egypt the custom is for Princesses to hide their beauty by covering the lower part of the face with a veil. In America the beauty of many of our women is hidden because of the weakness and sickness peculiar to the sex. If the Egyptian custom prevailed in this country, many sufferers would be glad to cover their premature wrinkles, their sunken cheeks, their unattractive complexion, from the eyes of the world with the veil of the Orient.

—Mr. Phil. H. Dannenberg arrived here on Saturday and left on Monday afternoon. He is traveling for the Eagle Paints Manufacturing Co., of Baltimore, Md. During reconstruction times he was untiring in his devotion and rendered valuable service to Winoosboro. His friends were delighted to see him here and gave him a cordial welcome to his old home.

—The work of taking the census, begun on Friday, is progressing well, and Mr. J. M. Stewart, the enumerator for this township, has already a long list down on his books. His territory extends two miles in each direction from the court house, and although he has made considerable progress in his work, the time remaining to him before the limit, July 1st, will not be any too long in which to complete it. He has had little trouble in taking the census so far, the chief difficulty he has encountered being to get clear and correct answers from the uneducated negroes.

We are glad that one of Fairfield's girls carried off one of the prizes, and Miss Pearson is to be congratulated upon winning this medal.

A REWARD OFFERED.
Governor McSweney has returned to Columbia, and in answer to the petition sent to him by the citizens of Winoosboro, has offered a reward of $100 for the capture of Tom Hill. This reward, in addition to other rewards offered, put quite a large price upon the negro, and who ever captures him will be well paid. The sensational stories about the runaway negro have subsided somewhat and the colored people are less frightened and excited than they were a few days ago, when Hill was being hotly pursued.

FAIRFIELD AT CLEMSON COLLEGE.
Mr. Editor: Let me use your press to tell the good people of Fairfield county that the medal for the best essay on "Good Roads," offered by the president of Clemson, has been awarded to Cadet R. N. Reeves, of Fairfield county, an agricultural student of the junior class. The papers were examined by the authorities of the agricultural department at Washington.
A similar medal last year was won by Cadet E. M. Matthews, of Winoosboro, then a mechanical student of the sophomore class.
Let an old Winoosboro boy exclaim: Hurrah for old Fairfield!

Twenty-five Days on the Chain Gang.
Norman Pagan, a negro boy, who has been employed at the passenger depot, was arrested here on Tuesday for stealing a railroad ticket from the ticket office. The boy gave the ticket to his sister, who was going to Columbia, and she not knowing that it was not a ticket to Columbia took it, and on the train gave it to the conductor. He saw that instead of a ticket to Columbia the girl had given him a ticket to Lynchburg, Va. Suspecting that something was wrong, he took the ticket, made the girl pay her fare, and found out from her where she had gotten the ticket. The conductor then notified Mr. George Bishop, the railroad detective, and the ticket agent at Winoosboro. Mr. Bishop brought the ticket to Winoosboro and on Tuesday had the boy arrested, whereupon he confessed to having taken the ticket. He was tried before Magistrate Cathcart and sentenced to twenty-five days on the chain gang.

Mr. W. S. Wheeler, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winoosboro, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the drug store here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work." For sale by McMaster Co., druggists.

COTTON ACREAGE.

The following was issued by the agricultural department at Washington on Monday, and was received here by Capt. T. J. Carleton:
Department of agriculture estimates acreage cotton planted at 25,558,000 acres, an increase of 2,036,000 acres or 8.07 per cent over production area of last year. The estimate increase is 7.06 per cent in South Carolina and Alabama; 8.66 per cent in Texas and Georgia; 9 per cent in Louisiana and Tennessee; 10 in North Carolina, Mississippi and Arkansas; 15 in Indian Territory; 18 in Oklahoma; 25 in Virginia; and 27 in Missouri. The increase is more or less localized, being least where the population is most dense and greatest where cotton growing has been less extensive. The average condition on June 1st was 82.5 as compared with 85.7 on June 1st last year, the lowest June condition in twenty years.

FLAG OF THE CEDAR CREEK RIFLES.
A number of Confederate relics are at Madison, Wis. C. C. Lincoln of that place sent to the Confederate Veteran photographs of some of these relics, and among others mentioned a flag of the Cedar Creek Rifles. The following letter is published in the Veteran in connection with it:
"Headquarters First Brigade, Third Division, Seventeenth A. C. Goldsboro, N. C., April 8, 1865.
"Excellency, James T. Lewis, Sir: I have the honor to forward to you by the hand of Maj. Taggart this Confederate banner, formerly borne by the Cedar Creek Rifles, under Capt. John Harrison, of South Carolina. It was captured by gallant soldiers, John J. Bailey of Company H, Sixteenth Wisconsin Volunteers, February 22, 1865. Maj. Geo. Blair, commanding Seventeenth Army Corps, has been kind enough to give me permission to send it home to you, to be deposited in the State Capitol with other trophies of war."
"Respectfully, your obedient servant," "Cassius Fairchild," "Col. Sixteenth Wis. Vols., Co. First Brigade."

This is evidently the old Cedar Creek Rifles of Fairfield County, and we would like to hear from some of the survivors, who may now be living in this county.
A Life and Death Fight.
Mr. W. A. Mines, of Manchester, Is., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5.00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Croup, Chest and Lung troubles. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at McMaster Co.'s drug store."

THE CHARLESTON EXPOSITION.
The excellent work of the special committee on exposition subscriptions, which visited New York to confer with the presidents of railroads entering Charleston, has resulted in adding $40,000 to the stock of the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition Company. This subscription was made by the Southern Railway, the Atlantic Coast Line and the Plant System. In addition to this, $2,500 was secured from the Clyde Steamship Line. These subscriptions positively insure the success of the project and exposition company will likely be organized within a few days.

The committee now at the North also anticipates old subscriptions in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other cities and the outlook is bright indeed.
Wherever one turns, the most encouraging reports are heard and the whole country seems to be willing and ready to help South Carolina, now that she has shown a disposition to help herself.

With the stock previously taken the figures now stand at about $175,000, and there is much more "in sight."
The people of South Carolina, generally have been invited to join in this movement, and the shares have been placed at $5 each, in order that every citizen may be personally interested, if he so desires. Subscription books have been sent to nearly every county in the State, and all who desire to aid in the splendid project can sign for such amounts as they see fit, in the presence and with the advice of their fellow-townsmen.
Maj. T. W. Woodward, of Rockton, is a member of the executive committee for Fairfield county.

WOODWARD TAKEN ON NEW LIFE.
Woodward has taken on new life. A large and elegant depot has been put up here; also a flag post for the convenience of the agent. The pump house and water tank have been repaired.

Dr. J. W. Douglass, a recent honored graduate of the S. C. Medical College, has opened an office here and will do the practice at this place, White Oak and the surrounding territory. The public can feel assured that all calls and phone messages will receive his prompt attention. We gladly welcome the doctor in our midst. He is well known and no one can doubt his success.

Mr. E. M. Woodward has been critically ill for two weeks. His many friends over the country will be glad to know he is convalescing now. Miss Ruth Brice has returned from a visit in Chester.
Mr. Jno. R. Craig was in town Saturday. We extend a cordial invitation to all candidates to visit this place this summer.

Mr. Calvin Brice has returned from an extended visit to North Carolina. Miss Nannie Nicholson has returned from Roanoke, Va., where she has been attending school.
Mr. W. A. Blain, the census enumerator, is busy these days performing the duties of that department.
June 8, 1900. Correspondent.

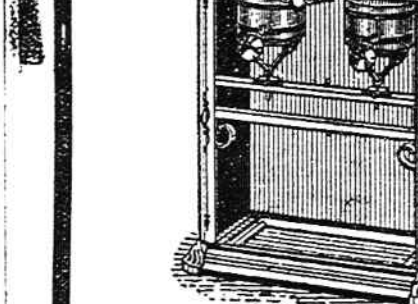

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more serious and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced into civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boecher's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germs of disease, but also relieves, soothes, and cures the patient. Try ONE BOTTLE. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by McMaster Co., druggists.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

A Fairfield Boy Describes a Fight With Filipinos.
Cagayan, Mindano Island, Philippines, April 14.—I wrote you while we were camped on the Luneta at Manila and hope that it reached you. We sailed from Manila on February 14th on transports Salvador and Castebano and the 45th regiment on U. S. transport Tarar. The 1st battalion of our regiment was unloaded at Lagaspi and 2nd and 3rd battalions with the 45th regiment were unloaded at Neveva Caceres on extreme southern portion of Luzon Island. The 1st battalion had quite a fight at Lagaspi. The 2nd and 3rd had no fighting but a great deal of heavy marching through the mountains and captured from the insurgents something over a hundred Spanish prisoners who were in an awful physical condition. On March 23rd we were again loaded on the same transports leaving the 45th at Neveva Caceres to garrison the town. On March 29th we landed at this place, 3rd battalion consisting of companies I, K and M with colonel and staff and band. The natives surrendered the town without any resistance, with twelve Remington rifles, which they claimed were all. Nearly all of the natives left the town on the following day, and on the morning of April 7th they attacked the town at about 5 o'clock, 1,200 strong, with spears and shields and about 200 Remington, Springfield rifles, and shotguns. I was on guard at the time and saw the attack from the start. I was corporal of the guard at Major Case's quarters, which consisted of three men and myself, with one on post two hours at a time. The guard stood inside of the front door in the hallway and the sentry walked just outside the door on the street, and Major Case, with Lieut. Fletcher and Lieut. Bernhard, sleeping above. They made Major Case's main point of attack, as it was but a small guard. At 8 o'clock the sentry called us and said that we had better get up as he could hear a strange noise some distance off. As soon as I awoke and heard the noise I knew what it was and started to load my gun. As I went to the door I saw the sentry reaching the street and looking down at about 200 yards distance I could see at least 100 coming in a run and yelling, flinging their knives over their heads. We commenced to shoot by platoons then, which had no effect, they kept coming and when within about 25 yards of us we retired back inside the door in the hallway and they came in on us with their bolos and we used our guns as clubs and shooting at the same time. The first three that came in were put down and then I saw the sentry call down and said that the others were coming from above as fast as they could start up. We guards had to fight hand to hand with them until the companies could get out, which took about fifteen minutes. I can't see how we guards got out with our lives, as the house was shot all to pieces and the bolo men inside on us. As soon as the companies got out they charged on them and drove them to every direction, shooting them down every step. After everything had quieted down we found that we had killed six and wounded one. They took no prisoners, but killed everything in sight. When they went to hunt up the dead and wounded they found two dead American soldiers, who were boiled to death on the spot, and ten wounded Americans, two of whom have since died from their wounds. The captain of our company took us through the foot and left yesterday with the wounded for Manila on the U. S. hospital ship Relief. They found 52 dead insurgents and 12 wounded. We buried the dead next day and took the wounded to our hospital where they are receiving treatment, and every now and again one will die. There are two in the hospital who are shot six times through the head with Krag-Logan rifles and are still living and mostly all returned to their homes in the town and report 100 of their men killed and 150 wounded. We are still finding dead ones on the outskirts of the town, and for six miles each way you can see blood all over the road and in some houses, which goes to show that a great many were wounded. We are now preparing for an attack at any time and looking for it. I think that they will try to burn the town next week. We rise every morning at 4 o'clock and each company takes its position as they attack every time just at day-break. If they ever attack us while in position there will be hundreds of them killed and then we will never have any more attacks at this place. The Major thinks that they will not attack us again, and I hope they won't. We will remain here the balance of our enlistment and garrison the town. Cagayan is on the northern portion of the Island of Mindano and a much healthier country than Luzon. We have very little sickness in the regiment at present, and what little we have is chills and fever.

I will have to close this, but will write you again before many days and a somewhat better piece. I am on guard every other day. We have at present a very strong guard and will continue to keep it on for a while which makes it very hard on the men. With best wishes to your paper and self I am
Yours truly,
Robt. A. Herren, 40th U. S. Vol., Co. M, Mindano, P. I.
